

The Seattle Times

What our writers love this week

Misha Berson - Seattle Times Theatre & Arts Critic

Aid Still Required Compilation

The 2004 Southeast Asian tsunami is still affecting millions of its victims, in a dozen nations. To help fund relief efforts, the charity Aid Still Required just released a beguiling CD of music by James Taylor, Bonnie Raitt, Maroon 5, Norah Jones and others, including new live versions of older hits (for instance, Paul McCartney's "Let It Be").

What beautiful music — made more so by its philanthropic purpose. Available at online music outlets, and at www.aidstillrequired.org.

